A Democratic Municipal Convention

Composed of Delegates Chosen at a Citizens' Caucus.

Judge Alexander is Selected to Lead the Citizens to Victory Over a Corrupt Democracy.

This is the house that Joe built: For mayor, H. N. Alexander. For city marshal, William Blankenship.

For treasurer, Frank Czarnowski. For councilman from the first ward, M. E. Hurley.

For councilman from the third ward, Aaron Goldberg.

Early last night twenty-seven Democratic delegates chosen at a citizens' meeting last Saturday night assembled at the city hall to nominate municipal candidates. All this was done long before the date of the citizens' meeting and it was known to a dead and decaying certainty who the unlucky candidates would be. Nevertheless it was thought best to hold a citizens' meeting for the sake of whatever popularity might result from it and it was necessary to hold a convention for the looks of the thing. It didn't last long and many of the delegates who had come in fresh from a late dinner table, still in the act of chewing, went out of the assembly room in the immediately subsequent act of swallowing.

Frank Baxter was made temporary chairman and R. E. L. Robinson temporary secretary. The following committee on credentials and order of business was appointed: W. T. Smith, H. H. McNeill, J. L. B. Alexander, Cal Williams and J. F. Meador. The committee spent ten minutes presumably looking up the antecedents of the twenty-seven gentlemen elected at the citizens' caucus to attend a Democratic convention and in ascertaining if the methods employed in their selection were sanctioned by the ten commandments and other religious authorities. The committee returned after while and reported that everything was found according to Gunter only Maurice Fleishman was absent, but the following persons were declared entitled to seats:

First ward—James McNamara, F. M. Czarnowski, A. Barsanti, J. L. B. Alexander, J. F. Meador, proxy, Gus H. Hirschfeld, A. Goldberg, J. F. Meador, E. Pesqueira.

Second ward—J. W. Evans, F. E. Dalton, J. L. B. Alexander, proxy, H. H. McNeill, Frank Fuqua.

Third ward—J. B. Hawley, Cal Williams, Frank Alley, Frank Baxter, Tom Newcomb, J. J. Hickey, R. E. L. Robinson.

Fourth ward—W. T. Smith, Frank King, Frank King, proxy, Ed. Zanis, F. G. McElwain, Frank King, proxy.

Everything was now ready and J. L. B. Alexander moved that the temporary organization be made permanent. W. T. Smith had something on the table and demanded a new deal; he wanted Mayor Evans for chairman and T. E. Dalton for secretary. This was allowed and the nominations were opened.

There were two candidates for mayor, W. T. Smith and H. N. Alexander.

Mr. Smith's nomination had been considered certain by all except those on the extreme inside the center of which was Joe L. B. H. N. Alexander was but in nomination by Frank Baxter and Homer McNeill performed a similar office for Mr. Smith.

The ballot which followed resulted, Alexander 14, Smith 12 one blank.

The next thing was a city marshal and there were two candidates to select from and both willing, Billy Blankenship and Tom Newcomb.

Newcomb was nominated in an oratorical flight by R. E. L. Robinson and Frank King informed the delegates that Billy before them was the same had known so long. One ballot it, Blankenship 17, Newcomb

He accordingly looked himself over. He found a long cut extending along the breast of his coat, another along the side of it, and still another which had severed the cloth in unpleasant proximity to his stomach.

Trying to anatomize an officer and begging money for a drink, are two entirely different offenses and the former precedes in importance. It was determined therefore to give the territory a "go" at Mr. O'Connor, who was accordingly taken yesterday before Justice Wharton, who remanded him to jail whence in the fullness of time he will probably be removed to Yuma.

DISTRICT COURT.

Habeas Corpus Denied in the Crickett Case.

The Hearing of a Plea in Abatement in the Tewksbury Case this Afternoon.

The most interesting incident in the district court yesterday was the hearing of an application for a writ of habeas corpus by C. J. Crickett, the agile real estate man. Application was made yesterday morning through the prisoner's attorney, J. E. Marks. The ground taken by Mr. Marks in the argument was that the evidence on which Crickett had been bound over was insufficient and that the affidavit on which the warrant for his arrest was issued specified no offense against the public. Judge Gooding declined to review the evidence saying that every prisoner in the jail might have the same ground for application for a writ. He wished so far as possible to discourage habeas corpus proceedings except in cases in which it was apparent that prisoners were being improperly restrained. The writ was denied and Crickett was remanded.

The greater part of the forenoon was taken up by arguments on a motion for a new trial in the case of Talbot vs. the Phoenix Mining company. Yesterday was the day set for the payment by Superintendent Gillingham of a judgment for $800, to avoid the penalty for contempt. Day before yesterday the defendant filed his motion and the argument was set for yesterday. The attorneys were unable to agree as to certain portions of the testimony and the court gave them time to abstract the evidence, granting, in the meantime, a stay of execution.

The hearing of a plea in abatement in the Tewksbury case was set for this afternoon. The plea is that the grand jury which indicted Tewksbury was irregularly constituted. If this plea is sustained the case will have to be presented to another grand jury; if not, a motion for a change of venue, notice of which has already been given, will be filed.

In the case of Thibodo vs. Thayer, a motion to quash the summons was denied.

The garnishment in Murray vs. Hickey was dismissed.

AN ANCIENT BIRDLAND.

Thousands of Great Wingless Birds Once Roamed U. S. Molested to New Zealand.

For ages before its occupation by man, says the Scientific American, New Zealand swarmed with great wingless birds, which found here no carnivorous enemies, but an abundance of vegetable food. The moas not only existed in vast numbers, and for thousands of years, but had such diversity of forms as to embrace no less than seven genera, containing twenty-five species—a remarkable fact which is unparalleled in any other part of the world. The commonest kinds in the North Island were only from two and one-half to four feet high.

Those of the South island were mostly from four to six feet tall, while the giant forms reaching twelve and thirteen feet were always rare. Immense deposits of moa bones have been found in localities to which they appear to have been washed from the hills in terr-

Keeley League Notes.

The Keeley Cure does not close the saloon, nor does it blockade the social avenues leading to drink. Many drunkards remain sober for a period of years through constant care and an exercise of the will—frequently through the efficacy of earnest prayer. Your humble servant, during the time my name was enrolled on the church book, by invoking Divine aid, and all the will-power I possessed, succeeded in abstaining absolutely from all stimulants for nearly five consecutive years. The temptation to drink, however, was not destroyed. During that whole time I was living under the torture of dread and fear that I would in an unguarded moment, slip and fall. A Keeley Graduate has not to exercise will-power to refrain from drinking. The craving for stimulants is entirely removed; and if he drinks, he forces himself to do so against his inclination. It is far easier, therefore, to remain sober than to get drunk; and one who relapses does so from a lack of appreciation of sobriety.

The physician cures the yellow fever patient, but he cannot prevent another epidemic. The treatment has done all that it promised—and more! Not only has the appetite for alcoholic drinks been removed, but the physical being seems to have undergone a thorough renovation, putting renewed action and strength into body and limb. The mental faculties, too, are brightened and quickened, enabling the mind to reach out, grasp and measure problems in life, which before lay undisturbed beyond the power of a befogged brain. Loftier, ambitions and higher aspirations are being introduced into life, causing one to feel and realize that they were created for a purpose. It is simply wonderful! and the more we think and reason on the subject, the more wonderful it becomes—reconstructed physically—reconstructed mentally—and every atom of morality in the composition is induced to shine forth.

The Keeley graduate, whose drinking days date back to his "teens," has much more to thank God for than he who did not commence until later in life. The besetting influences of the damnable curse prevented the brain power of the youth from maturing, thereby robbing him of the ability of entering into and appreciating the different fields of thought from which the opinions of men are moulded. You that have been diseased from youth, and have been redeemed, know that from the hour that you realized that you free, new channels of thought began to open up, leading away beyond the boundaries where thought was wont to reach. Improvement in the powers of concentration is encouragingly recognizable—the imagination is more fruitful—in short, every mental faculty is clearer, more acute, and capable of more and better work than ever before—more anon.
